

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WILL LAY OFF MEN NEXT MONTH

Definite Statement Made From Railroad Offices in San Francisco.

FORCE TO BE NOTIFIED

Increase in Operating Expenses Is Assigned as Reason for Reduction.

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—A considerable number of the employees of the Southern Pacific Railroad will be dropped temporarily from the company's payroll before September 1st. This statement was made here today by a high official of the company. The cut, he said, would extend to all departments, but he refused to say how many men would be affected. The increase in operating expenses, with a less than proportionate increase in income was given as the cause. Notification of the company's action will be sent to a number of the men affected tomorrow.

12 1/2 PER CENT LAY OFF.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—The call this morning says: Reports were circulated last evening that temporary cuts had been received by the local officials of the Southern Pacific to cut down their forces in every department 12 1/2 per cent. The report could not be verified in San Francisco, but it was supported by telegraphic advices from New York. It was stated that the officials of the railroad had determined on drastic action in view of the pending differences with its shop employees.

It was stated that the directors had taken the position that they could not meet the demands of the men and had decided to prepare for eventualities. This action is said to explain the recent heavy declines in Union and Southern Pacific on the New York stock board.

The retrenchment, it is understood, will apply to the whole system in all its branches. The general office will not escape, according to the information that comes by wire.

The shop employees recently formed a federation and presented demands for a flat increase in pay of 7 cents an hour and for improved working conditions. The company declined to make the changes or to raise wages. Notice was then served by the shop employees by which their existing contracts will expire early next month.

The reduction in the Southern Pacific force, according to the dispatches from New York, will include every branch of the service. It is stated that the order is to become effective at once.

2500 ON UNION PACIFIC.
OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 20.—At the office of the general manager of the Union Pacific railroad company today the information was given out that 2,500 employees of that road will be laid off during the next week, possibly on Monday.

The reduction in force will apply to all departments. The employees will not be discharged but will be laid off with no time set for their return to work.

The action of the company is said to be due to the fact that since October business has been falling off steadily.

Army May be Concentrated at Large Cities

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Concentration of the army at large stations strategically situated for military purposes and the abandonment of the small posts is under consideration by the War Department. The idea, which requires the sanction of Congress, is to construct near cities or large towns compact barracks, such as to house a regiment.

Most of the officers are to be accommodated within the city, obviating the necessity of building extensive officers' quarters.

It is proposed to place the greater part of the infantry in the northern states and the cavalry and field artillery in the south, where forage is cheap and where horses may be kept out nearly the entire year.

IDAHO TOWN IS DYNAMITED

WALLACE, Idaho, Aug. 20.—The store building of George Van Curen, at Cataldo, a small town in this county, was blown up by dynamite Saturday night. The dynamite escaped.

NEGR0 KILLED BY WIFE.
YUMA, Ariz., Aug. 20.—Following a trip to this city yesterday on which he bought his wife a gold watch, John Jordan, a negro employed at the levee construction camp near here, was shot twice and killed by the woman when they quarreled on their return to the camp last night.

LEGISLATIVE RECORD OF CONGRESS NOW ADJOURNING

Reciprocity, Campaign Publicity, Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico and New Reapportionment of Representatives, Important Accomplishments of Special Session of the Sixty-second Congress.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Congress adjourned before Tuesday night, possibly tomorrow, and the most strenuous session of recent years will pass into history. The net results of the extra session in comparison with the ambitious program adopted at the outset were not large.

Canadian reciprocity was brought as near reality as the executive and legislative departments could advance it; statehood was assured for New Mexico and Arizona; campaign publicity legislation was enacted in a form satisfactory to its most earnest advocates; provision was made for an enlarged House of Representatives, based on the 1910 census, and a few other measures of minor importance were passed.

A Democratic House, the first since 1895, attempted to make into laws the views of Democrats on tariff revision, but executive disapproval rendered futile all efforts.

Two tariff bills, one materially reducing the duties on wool and woollen goods of all classes, and the other placing on the free list articles of machinery and tools used by farmers and amended to include many other items were vetoed by President Taft.

A cotton revision bill awaits a similar fate.

The House Democrats endeavored to pass the woolen free list bill over the veto but the necessary two-thirds vote could not be mustered. These failures to overthrow President Taft's veto were a strong factor in determining leaders to close the session and it is not likely that Congress will be in session to receive a veto on the record of the House.

When the special session convened April 4th, the House was organized by the Democratic ways and means committee and this body made the committee assignments. The new system eliminated what was known for many years as the cardroom of the Speaker. The committee also directed the deliberations of the Democratic caucus and framed the legislative program of the session.

The program adopted and rigidly adhered to by the House until the closing weeks of the session included action on Canadian reciprocity, a farmers' free list, reduction of duties on the wool and cotton schedules, an increase in the membership of the House from 381 to 433, a constitutional amendment looking to the election of nine states senators by direct vote of the people, revision of the campaign publicity law and statehood for New Mexico and Arizona.

While the House was successful in carrying out the plans, few of the measures will reach the statute books.

TRUST INVESTIGATION.
Investigations without number were instituted at this session and some of them, notably those bearing on alleged monopolies in steel and sugar, were prosecuted with vigor. They still are in progress.

Constructive legislation to bear on federal regulation of corporations is regarded as certain to come from the inquiries. Plans already have been instituted to revise the antitrust laws. Charges were revived that Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, was

WHERE HAS SHERIFF HIDDEN M'DAVIT?

Removal of Prisoner Said to Have Frustrated Plot of Lynchers.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 20.—That a carefully laid plot for the removal of Dr. A. W. McDevitt from the county jail by a mob at midnight last night was frustrated by the prisoner's removal to another jail was the statement of Sheriff Ralph McDevitt. He declined to reveal the present whereabouts of the dentist, accused of having immured Miss Jessie McDonald in a narrow room adjoining his office for fifteen months. It is believed, however, that McDevitt taken to the state hospital at Highlands.

McDevitt, according to the sheriff and his deputies, lost every semblance of the jaunty assurance which he wore for a short time after his arrest. He emerged with terror when led through the jail doors to the waiting automobile which carried him to hiding in another jail last night said the sheriff, and throughout the ride his body shook with fear. He mumbled continuous pleas to the sheriff to protect him.

McDevitt's trial on a statutory charge connected with the alleged imprisonment of the girl is scheduled to come up August 31st.

ONE MAN KILLED IN COLORADO COLLISION

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Aug. 20.—One man, stealing a ride, was fatally injured, and several passengers were shaken up, when the Rocky Mountain Limited, on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, going forty-five miles an hour, ran into an open switch at Flagler, Colo., at 10 o'clock this morning. The limited crashed into a train of freight cars, wrecking two of the latter and wrecking both engines of the limited.

ATWOOD GLIDES WAY THROUGH CLOUDS OF DUST

Does 104 Miles in 2 Hours, 11 Minutes, in Spite of Difficulties.

TO CROSS CONTINENT

Plans to Make Flight From Los Angeles to New York

Summary of the seventh day of Atwood's St. Louis-to-New York flight:
Left Buffalo 3:20 p. m.
Over Rochester, 4:42 p. m.
Landed at Lyons, 5:31 p. m.
Distance traveled on seventh day, 104 miles.
Actual flying time 2 hours and 11 minutes.
Distance from St. Louis, 930 miles.
Total flying time 19 hours and 33 minutes.
Distance still to go to complete 1265 mile trip to New York 335 miles.

LYONS, N. Y., Aug. 20.—Harry N. Atwood, Boston aviator, who is fast approaching the world's long distance record in the flight to New York, landed in a field at Lyons this afternoon after flying 104 miles from Buffalo without a stop.

Ascending in Buffalo at 3:20 o'clock, he alighted in Lyons at 5:31 p. m., having covered the 104 miles in 2 hours and 11 minutes.

On one stretch he covered four miles in three minutes.

A train left Buffalo with Atwood, ran in front of the aeroplane almost all the way to Rochester, but arrived there eighteen minutes after the aviator had circled about the city and disappeared to the east. The train, however, had made a stop en route.

Atwood is now 335 miles from New York. He hopes to reach Albany Tuesday night, and Wednesday, in a one day flight down the Hudson river, he expects to break the world's record for distance in a single day.

Atwood's flight to Lyons, his trip, landing at Coney Island before sundown. For the 200 miles already covered, his actual flying time has been 19 hours and 33 minutes.

WILL BREAK RECORD.

Atwood will break the world's long distance record if he reaches a point on the Hudson south of Albany between Greenbush and Rhine Cliffs. If he reaches Rhine Cliffs he will have flown 1175 miles, or just 13 more miles than the record made by European aviators. His flying time, he expects, will be ten days, as compared with the 12 days taken by the present record holder.

"The strangest feature of my trip today," said Atwood, "was that I ran into clouds of dust. Not far out of Buffalo I found the air even at a great altitude filled with fine grains of sand. I steered in all directions, but could not find a way out. It was not until I reached Batavia that I found the air clear. Nearing Rochester I decided to fly around the city as the smoke there appeared likely to confuse me."

Atwood declares he will prepare for a long trip along the international boundary line in North Dakota. A number of reports are being received from the border that the property loss is reported at Sherwood, Lorain, Mohall and Souris. At Souris, one person was killed.

MANY INJURED IN DAKOTA TORNADO

Two Fatalities Are Reported and Property Loss Is Great.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 20.—A terrific wind storm along the international boundary line in North Dakota, blew down houses, tore up the roofs of barns, and whirled up clouds of dust and debris. It is reported that two tornadoes collided at Sherwood. Heavy property loss is reported at Sherwood, Lorain, Mohall and Souris. At Souris, one person was killed.

Members of the family of Ingomar Nelson, southwest of Sherwood, saved their lives by lying down in a wheat field.

It is reported that property in Saskatchewan and Manitoba suffered. A destructive hail storm struck Perdue, Saskatchewan, and wind destroyed many farm buildings to the Elmore district of the same province. Two fatalities are reported at West Elmore.

NEARLY HALF OF SIGNATURES BAD

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—The checking of the petitions for the recall of Mayor George W. Dilling was kept up by a large force of men today, when registering headquarters closed tonight. It was found of 10,354 signatures filed, 7045 had been checked with the following result:

Accepted, 4617; rejected, 3428. There is doubt expressed as to the genuineness of approximately 100 more signatures.

The citizens recall association, of which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Strider are the leaders, has ten days in which to file supplemental petitions to overcome the shrinkage caused by the rejection of the illegal names. Mayor Dilling and his supporters are confident that a recall election will not be held.

DOCK STRIKE AT LIVERPOOL MAY BE ENDED AT ONCE

Railway Men in England Are Returning to Work.

REJOICE IN VICTORY

Settlement Said to Be First Formal Recognition of Unions.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Railway men throughout the kingdom are returning to work and it is hoped within a few days to have the transit system under normal conditions.

Following the announcement Saturday that the railway managers and their employees had agreed to permit a commission to settle their difficulties, came the news tonight that there was every hope of ending the dockers' strike at Liverpool.

No rioting as a result of labor trouble was reported today, except at Dublin, where the police and constables came into collision with a mob in sympathy with the striking news boys who were endeavoring to prevent the distribution of newspapers. Several shops were looted.

CELEBRATING VICTORY.

The railway workers held meetings throughout the kingdom today to celebrate what they term a victory over the railway companies. With the exception of 4000 men of the Northeastern Railway Company, which was not a party to the settlement agreement, all thousands of Manchester men, the employees at all stations adopted resolutions in favor of recognition of work. The Northeastern Company's employees demand an eight hour day and a two shilling weekly advance in wages, with a minimum weekly wage of 45 shillings, about $5.50.

Although the strike has not been completely restored, the men in most cases presented themselves for duty today and a start was made toward remedying the disorder caused by the strike. Some progress was made in clearing the lines of the railway, but it will be several days before normal conditions are restored.

Because of the telegraph blockade, the manifesto of the strike leaders calling on the men to return to work did not reach some points until this morning and last night there were disturbances at several places. With the exception of Llanelli, where there were no serious riots.

TWELVE DEAD IN WALES.

At Llanelli, twelve are dead as a result of the disturbances of yesterday and last night. Most of the casualties were due to an explosion in the freight shed set off by the troops yesterday morning. The police believe that the explosion was caused by a box of cartridges looted from the troop train and thrown into the fire.

Many persons were seriously injured by the explosion and are in the hospital. Eight thousand men were quartered at Llanelli, but today the town was quiet. The officer in command said that riots and not strikers were responsible for the rioting.

The prospects for a settlement of the Liverpool dock strike are brighter tonight. Labor leaders have agreed to meet the representatives of the men when they all return to work. While the strike commission has ordered the men to return to work, pending the result of the negotiations, Tom Mann, the leader of the strikers, said he had reason to believe that he would be able to arrange a meeting of the ship owners and men tomorrow. He was hopeful there would be a settlement and declared that the dockers would be at work Wednesday.

The steamers Celtic and Caronia both sailed from Liverpool this afternoon with full cargoes of coal. The Celtic, captained at Queensferry today and took the mail and many passengers. The Caronia landed her passengers and mail at Plymouth.

40,000 AT MEETING.

A meeting of 40,000 trades unionists of London, was held at Hyde Park this afternoon. Labor leaders have agreed to meet the representatives of the men when they all return to work. While the strike commission has ordered the men to return to work, pending the result of the negotiations, Tom Mann, the leader of the strikers, said he had reason to believe that he would be able to arrange a meeting of the ship owners and men tomorrow. He was hopeful there would be a settlement and declared that the dockers would be at work Wednesday.

While not accepting the terms of the agreement between the employers and the men as a final settlement of the latter's demands, the latter concluded that the men had decided to return to work and trust to the commission to give effect to the spirit and letter of the agreement.

The strike leaders, in a manifesto asking the men to accept the agreement, pointed out that the companies have agreed to abide by the findings of the commission even if it recommends recognition of the union. "We have no hesitation in saying," the manifesto declares, "that in addition to having been official recognition in negotiating the present dispute, our evidence before the commission will be such that it justifies us in saying that before many weeks the railway workers will have won the charter long enjoyed by every other class in the community."

MANY PENILESS.

Thousands of factory workers passed the day at Blackpool and had spent their last penny. Many of them walked twenty and thirty miles in order to reach their homes.

Hundreds felt exhausted by the way-side or in the fields. The authorities, learning of their distress, posted notices asking assistance of benevolently inclined persons, whereupon vehicles of every description were sent out on the road to pick them up.

The mayors of several towns provided meals and shelter to the stranded visitors.

There was an unaccountable outbreak against Jews at Trarap, Monmouthshire, where midnight Jewish shops were wrecked and looted, by a savage mob. The police force was powerless until reinforcements arrived.

PRESIDENT TO BREAKGROUND FOR THE FAIR

Announces Six Weeks Itinerary for Trip in September to Cities of Pacific Coast

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Plans for President Taft's trip through the West and the Pacific coast practically were completed today. The journey will be almost as extensive as that taken by the President on his famous "swing around the circle" in 1909, when he traveled more than 13,000 miles and visited thirty-three states.

He will break ground for the Panama Canal Exposition at San Francisco, make scores of addresses and attempt to scale the 14,000 feet of Mount Rainier's slope.

According to the present arrangement, the President will be gone six weeks. In that time it is expected he will make nearly 200 speeches, from the rear platform of his private car and other places not on the regular schedule. Republican leaders look upon the trip as the most important politically that the President has mapped out since he entered the White House.

He will go through all the states in the West in which they recognize the dominance of the Progressive Republicans who are counted on to oppose his re-nomination next year.

Until the question of the adjournment of Congress was out of the way, the President was undecided as to whether he should be gone three weeks or six. With adjournment practically assured for this week the President feared that he can get three weeks rest at Beverly and be in trim to stand the hard grind of forty days in a private car.

The President probably will leave Beverly on September 1st, returning East about November 1st. He will go West through Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Nevada to the Coast. Most of the big cities in these states, including Des Moines, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City, will be visited, but the plans for the trip contemplate stops at scores of smaller places as well.

From California, the President will go north to Portland and Seattle. Three days are to be spent in Washington state, and from there eastward will allow him to stop in Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

While no "spell binders" are to be taken along, it is probable that members of the cabinet or congressmen will become traveling companions of the President at various points en route. Topics for the President's address will not be hard to find, the party leaders say.

MADERO AGAIN IS PEACEMAKER

De La Barra Determined to Put an End to Zapata Uprising.

YAUATEPEC, Morelos, Mexico, Aug. 20.—Francisco I. Madero again has induced Zapata and his rebels to prepare for disarmament. He arrived in a special train at noon, conferred with the disgruntled insurgents and left for Cuautla tonight.

Rebels brought the assurance of Madero, whose troops are encamped on a hill's march from here, that his would make no immediate move on Yauatepec. Madero explained that his forward movement yesterday was "in the capacity of a bluff to make him believe that this movement that resulted in a slight skirmish."

Before leaving for Cuautla, Madero announced that the Zapatistas in Yauatepec had agreed not to resist the peaceable occupation of the town, which will be guarded by the new president's army.

General Almazan's rurales, he declared that Zapata's men would be mobilized in Cuautla and its environs at once and that muniting-out of the forces would be made immediately.

Before leaving Madero made arrangements for the necessary payment of the troops' forces to obtain needed supplies.

REYES DENIES CHARGE.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 20.—Order will be re-established in the state of Morelos before the federal troops are withdrawn. They have been ordered to occupy the state town now held by the Zapatistas. General Ambrosio Figueroa has been instructed to march his men northward from the Guerrero state line on drunales in the state of Vera Cruz will be brought into the terrorized region.

This is an outline of the policy the federal government will follow in dealing with Zapata and his rebels in Morelos as determined by President De La Barra's cabinet today. The President and his cabinet are determined to bring the uprising to an end. Madero's intimations that General Huerta's generosity toward his army forward, as regarded as unfounded and little attention is paid in official circles to this suggestion that General Bernardo Reyes is conniving with army officials to bring about unnecessary strife. The accusations are being indignantly denied by Reyes.

SPANISH WAR VETS MEETING IN EAST

Three Corned Fight for Leadership of This Fraternity.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 20.—The eighth annual encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans was formally opened tonight with a reception tendered to the 1000 delegates who have already arrived by Mrs. Ida M. Galloway, president of the general assembly, and her staff.

L. E. Dyer of Missouri has withdrawn from the contest for command in chief, leaving a spirited three-cornered fight for the place among Maurice Simmons of New York, John Lewis Smith of Washington, D. C., and Oscar T. Taylor of Pittsburg, Pa., all of whom are on the ground with the backing of enthusiastic delegations.

A hard fight is promised for practically every office, while Louisville and Atlantic City, N. J., are putting up a contest for the 1912 equipment.

MEXICANS MAKE ATTACK ON AMERICAN FLAG AT TIJUANA

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 20.—The Stars and Stripes are a pleasing object to residents of the United States town of Tijuana. A party of tourists who were there today in a large automobile to which was attached a big American flag, quickly a crowd gathered. Threatening language was used and hoots were heard. In a short time the visitors found themselves surrounded by an angry mob of 200 men. The mob demanded that the flag be removed. Ray McNamara, the driver of the automobile, then threw open the trunk causing the big machine to rear much like a galloping gun. The crowd in front sprang back, and putting on full speed the driver sent the car across the line, with the flag still flying.

EAGLES SPECIAL IN RECORD RUN TO BAY

Santa Fe Train Makes 207 Miles at Rate of 50 Miles Per Hour.

The Santa Fe "Eagles" special, which left Fresno yesterday morning for San Francisco, broke the time record between Fresno and the Bay. A telegram received here last night from Ralph W. Hobart, general agent of the Santa Fe company, who accompanied the train, stated that the time was four hours and forty minutes, or two hours less than the time scheduled for the train. This is the fastest time ever made on the line, the Santa Fe train, No. 41, and Southern Pacific train No. 56, which run from Fresno to San Francisco in the morning.

The special was composed of six coaches and baggage car, and carried 250 Eagles. The engine used was No. 497, one of the Baldwin locomotive type in general use on the Santa Fe west of the mountains. The run was made with stops at Merced, Stockton, and two stops near Oakland. The distance traveled was 207 miles, and the speed averaged 44.35. Allowing thirty minutes for stops, the average speed was 50 miles an hour.

The run was made in the nature of a test, the Santa Fe having rebuilt a large part of its track and relaid it with heavy steel. It is believed that the roadbed being completed will easily handle the new Atlantic type of engines to be put on in the Valley this fall, to carry the new San Francisco-Los Angeles train.

ENGLISH GLAD TO HAVE KITCHENER AT CAIRO

LONDON, Aug. 20.—Members of the Service clubs cannot restrain their delight at the prospect of Lord Kitchenier going to Egypt as British agent, to take the place of the late Sir Eldon Gorst.

The appointment will be officially announced after a short interval. Meanwhile there is great sympathy for Lord Kitchenier, who is young, pretty and charming, but like her late husband, completely devoid of tact.

At Cairo both she and her husband made many blunders and Sir Eldon, who was a most amiable man, seriously lowered British prestige by a number of little everyday acts which showed the deepest contempt among the English residents and considerable disrespect to the natives.

For instance, he would go to the Khedive's palace on a bicycle, wearing a cap, and ask the servants if he could use the kitchen, and if so what time would be convenient.

15,000 ARRIVE FOR EAGLES' CONVENTION

Establishment of a Women's Auxiliary Is to Be Considered.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20.—At a late hour tonight about 15,000 delegates and visitors to the thirteenth annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles which will begin here tomorrow, had arrived. Trains from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, New York and other eastern cities are expected tomorrow and it is expected that the total number of attendants at the convention will exceed 25,000, 1500 of whom will be delegates.

The four most important issues to be settled by the convention will be the election of a president, the establishment of a women's auxiliary, the reduction of the age of membership from 21 to 18, and the question of state autonomy.

The contest for the presidency will be between Frank E. Hering of South Bend, Ind., former incumbent, and J. J. C. Hering of San Francisco. Hering was active in the support of Theodore Roosevelt for governor in the last California gubernatorial election.

The opening session will begin at 8 o'clock tomorrow at the new Eagles hall.

CHILDREN TRAINED TO STEAL MILK BOTTLES

St. Louis Dairymen Said to Lose Ten Thousand Dollars a Year.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 19.—That there are "Eagles" in St. Louis who have corrupted small boys and girls to the number of several hundred to steal empty milk bottles, is the charge that St. Louis dairymen make.

Louis A. Spies, president of a dairy company, estimated the loss to his company at $200,000. Mr. Spies says other dairies suffer proportionately.

"Indianapolis is the clearing house for stolen milk bottles," says he. "We were advised by a dairy man at Indianapolis that he had been offered a lot of bottles that were stolen in St. Louis."

"We know that little children have been taught to steal bottles from doorsteps, etc., and to deliver them to dealers in such commodities for the purpose of a few cents. I should put the total annual loss to St. Louis dairies in stolen bottles at $10,000."

NO GREAT CHANGES IN COMING WEEK

Warmer and Then Cooler Turns Are Predicted By Officials.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—There are no indications of extreme changes in the temperature in the coming week. A disturbance which now is over the northwest probably will move eastward, accompanied by showers.

The weather bureau in its weekly weather bulletin issued tonight, says: "Fair weather with moderate temperature will continue Monday and Tuesday in the lower lake region, the middle Atlantic and New England. A disturbance over the northwest will move eastward, preceded and attended by showers and clouds."

The disturbance will be followed by a high area now on the north Pacific Coast, bringing with it falling temperatures that will reach the northwestern states Monday and Tuesday, the great central valleys and the upper lake regions Tuesday or Wednesday and the eastern portion of the country Thursday and Friday.

Generally fair weather will prevail after Wednesday in the central west and Tuesday in the extreme west, except in the central and south Rocky Mountain region, where local showers are probable. In the north Atlantic and east Gulf states local showers will continue, while in the west Gulf states the weather will be generally fair.

Another low area will appear in the British Isles, the central and south Atlantic, and the west Gulf states, and the week attended by rising temperature in the northwestern states.

FAMOUS RACE HORSE PULLS LAUNDRY WAGON

Rescued From Chinese Owner By Son of Former Racing Man.

LOS ANGELES, August 20.—"Starlight," a race horse, famous eighteen years ago, chiefly known among followers of the turf as the winner of the $20,000 purse at Louisville, was this afternoon discovered by its original owner, a Chinese laundry wagon, broken down and left in a state of starvation.

There is a large white mark on his left shoulder resembling a star. It was this mark that identified him.

He was discovered by John Peyton of Lexington, Ky., a guest at the Van Nuys Hotel. He rushed up to the Chinese and asked him to take the horse. Peyton pulled a roll of bills from his pocket and made an offer of $100 for the animal. The Chinese accepted the money.

"Starlight" will never work again. He will be shipped back to Peyton's farm in Kentucky.

"Starlight" will never work again," said Peyton. "He was born on my father's farm and was given to me when he was two years old."

"He won the great race at Louisville in 1892. Father sold him for $5000 before he left the track."

ENGLISH RESENT KING'S CRITICISM

George Declares School Boys of United Kingdom Are Ill-Mannered.

LONDON, Aug. 20.—With the Parliamentary battle between the opposition and the Government at white heat and with echoes of uneasiness over the Morocco affair still reverberating through the land, King George has been fit to add another note to the disapproval which greeted his advent on the English throne and which press and politicians have been making heroic efforts to dispel.

His latest breach of diplomacy hits directly at their in a place where their pride is most easily wounded. It is criticism of the school boys of the United Kingdom and British home and the much vaunted discipline that is supposed to maintain them. His Majesty has seen fit to deplore the manners of the British school boy.

His criticism was made public by proxy, and was entirely inadvertent, happened at a recent celebration where the bishop of Worcester was officiating. The bishop in the course of his speech of felicitation recounted a conversation with the King, during which the relative merits of British and foreign schools were the subject of discussion. The King, said the bishop, remarked upon the politeness of the foreign and American school boys and the boorishness of the English product, saying:

"My good bishop, why do you not set about reforming public school manners? Foreigners, both European and American, know how to behave. They stand up, to stand up, or sit down in the presence of their superiors, while the Englishman and English youth do not. The average English boy is better acquainted with the stable than the drawing room."

It is probable that the bishop did not reckon the effect of this speech. But the effect was immediate and startling. The press had scarcely made the bishop's reputed conversation with the King public when from all sides and all conditions of society there arose a storm of protest that had its expression in thousands of letters. And so heated was the feeling expressed that members of the King's household are said to have implored him to deny or explain the words put in his mouth by the bishop.

King George, however, has taken no action in the matter, leaving the British public to think what it likes and fan or extinguish the flame of wrath that leaped forth throughout the land.

SAENGERFEST FOR COAST IS PLANNED

SEATTLE, Aug. 20.—Walla Walla was awarded the 1911 saengerfest, a meeting of the organizations of the North Pacific Coast today. Los Angeles was a candidate for the honor and came forth with a delegation to conduct the campaign. After a long debate the Los Angeles supporters withdrew from the contest announcing they would hold a saengerfest in 1912.

Action looking to the consolidation of the three great saenger bands in the west—the North Pacific with headquarters at Seattle, the South Pacific with headquarters at Los Angeles and the Pacific saenger bands. The plan of consolidation provides for the maintenance of the different saengerbands with the addition of a united saengerbund of the Pacific coast.

CUSTOMS DISTRICTS TO BE DECREASED

Treasury Department Confident Congress Will Approve the Change.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—If the Treasury Department's plan for reducing the customs territory of the United States are approved by Congress the number of customs houses will be reduced from 124 to 75 and many collectors who now hold important political offices will find themselves reduced.

Albany, N. Y.; Syracuse, N. Y.; Atlanta, Ga.; Wichita, Kan.; St. Louis, Mo.; Burlington, Vt.; Dubuque, Iowa; St. Joseph, Mo.; Chattanooga, Tenn.; Dayton, Ohio; Paducah, Ky.; Lincoln, Neb.; Knoxville, Tenn.; and Houston, Texas, are among those which would be reduced to sub-ports in new districts.

Some new ports of entry would be created, among them Springfield, Mass.; Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis, Memphis, Evansville, Omaha, Kansas City, Des Moines, Iowa; Indianapolis, Nashville and Grand Rapids.

There are now no ports of entry in Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, Iowa, Missouri, Utah or Nevada.

Maine's fourteen customs houses would be reduced to four; Massachusetts' from eleven to four; New York from ten to six; Virginia from seven to two; New Jersey from six to one; Florida from six to four; and California from four to two.

In some instances the collection districts of important collectors would be enlarged and deputy collectors added to their staffs.

Assistant Secretary Curtis in charge of the customs, who devised the reorganization, said he believes that Congress will approve it.

CLAIMS COMPENSATION FROM COUNT ZEPPELIN

Widow Says He Used Husband's Ideas in Building His Dirigibles.

BERLIN, August 20.—Count Zeppelin has been sued by Mrs. Melanio Schwartz of Karlsruhe, who charges the famous German used the ideas of her late husband in the construction of his airship. Some weeks ago Maximilian Harden, the editor, reproduced some of the contracts made between Zeppelin and Schwartz's widow, showing the count had employed some of the ideas of the Austrian inventor.

Schwartz, who for many years had worked on an airplane of a fixed type and made of aluminum, visited Berlin in 1891 and showed his airship. He was well received by the German authorities, but the inventor died before his invention could be used.

Count Zeppelin then entered into an agreement with Mrs. Schwartz to buy the invention of her husband. It is alleged, and also to purchase the material needed in the airship factory where Schwartz had obtained his.

Mrs. Schwartz asks for additional compensation which she asserts is still due her, according to the contracts made with Zeppelin's company.

CANADA'S FIGHT IS OVER RECIPROCITY

Opponents of Laurier Raise a Cry Against Annexation.

TORONTO, Aug. 20.—The election campaign has gained full headway throughout Ontario. The great industrial province of Canada by the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the premier, and R. L. Borden, the opposition leader. On all sides it is recognized that reciprocity is the issue.

Borden has declined to make his campaign an attack on the fifteen years of annexation of the government, but will make his fight solely on reciprocity. William Patterson, minister of customs, one of commissioners who negotiated the reciprocity agreement with Washington, has been re-nominated in the Ontario legislature, run against Patterson. He is accounted a strong man and the result will be in doubt.

The annexation speeches in the American congress are being made the final of by Conservative party, while the Liberal speakers declare that the talk of annexation is simply beneath the attention of serious people.

JEHL'S BRAVES TAKE REVENGE ON LEMOORE

Win First Game of Second Series By Hitting Hart Hard.

HANFORD, Aug. 20.—St. Mary's College players representing Lemoore were badly beaten by Captain Jehl's Braves at Athletic park today by a score of 5 to 1.

Hanford won the game on its merits. The outfielders of the Braves played at eleven hard chances. Martin covered big territory in left and Trippett proved his ability to run backwards as readily as forwards.

"Battling" Hart tried to pitch for the Cubs, but he was not very successful and allowing six hits he was out for Hanford's hard hitters. Big "Bill" Thiel had a sore arm and was unable to play with the Cubs.

Jones pitched good ball, but was wild at times. He struck out three men and passed four. The Cubs were unlucky in placing their hits. Martin, Trippett and Rogers saved the day for Hanford. Martin got five hard flies, Trippett three and Rogers three. Besides this, Hamilton and Tognorio each got under fly balls and Lemoore had no chance.

Hamilton opened the bombardment for Hanford in the first inning with a dandy little single. Funk reached first on Klein's error and Jehl sacrificed Hamilton to third, but was a victim of a fast double and Harris hit for two bases, scoring Hamilton and Trippett.

Lemoore made one run in the fifth, his only mark in the game. Klein reached first on an error, Ritchie drew four balls and Apperson sacrificed Klein to third. Wright went out on a long drive to third and Klein scored after the out. A sensational foul catch by Martin stopped the Cub's chances.

Lemoore scored no more. Captain Jones for two bases, scoring Funk in the third inning and grabbed another two base hit in the fifth, which eventually netted him a tally. In the seventh Harris scored Funk with a single. Tognorio got a safe hit in the opening of the eighth, but it availed him nothing for he went out on a misunderstanding of a signal while trying to steal home from third. The score.

GEORGE ABANDONS IDEAS OF DURBAR

LONDON, Aug. 20.—In parliament circles it is now considered probable that the Delhi Durbar will not be postponed, but will be altogether abandoned. The proposed coronation of the king in India was from the first intensely unpopular with the Indian government, which dreaded the enormous expense involved and who felt uneasy concerning the safety of the monarch. George, however, insisted, and the government could not well discourage him.

But the king himself has now suggested the abandoning of the affair on account of the drought, famine and terrible ravages of the plague. Moreover, with the working classes of Great Britain setting with discontent, the king feels that the pomp and expense of a Durbar would be altogether out of place, seeing that the money required to finance it must come from the pocket of the British taxpayers.

Among the Americans who had booked berths to attend the Durbar are Cora Countess Stratford, Lady Loith of Fyvie and Mrs. Spender Clay.

A Pleasure to Cook With An Electric Stove

It is a pleasure to cook with an electric stove. There is no heat to cause discomfort to the user of the stove. The heat is all transmitted to the food that is being prepared. None of it is allowed to escape. There is no disagreeable odor, and there is no dirt.

When it is necessary to prepare a meal in a very short time, the electric stove demonstrates its superiority. When it is desirable to prepare a particularly dainty meal, the electric stove proves its value. It can be placed on the dining table to keep foods hot and palatable.

RESIDENCE OF COLUMBUS

HOBSON IS VISITED

BY BURGLAR

Gains Entrance Through

Front Door With Skeleton Key.

Burglar Makes Getaway

With Valuable Necklace

and Watch.

A burglar last night between the hours of 2 and 11 o'clock, entered the home of Columbus W. Hobson at 1323 G street, ransacked a bed room and secured a valuable necklace of five opals and four pearls, a man's open face watch, a woman's watch with the initials "C. W." on the case, a man's silk watch fob, Officers Hardenbrook and Enos searched the neighborhood immediately following the discovery of the burglary but they were unable to find any clue that would lead to the identity of the burglar.

The burglar evidently entered the residence through the front door with the aid of a skeleton key. He made his exit through the rear door. The police found footprints in the back yard.

Mrs. Hobson left the house about 7 o'clock and returned shortly before 10 o'clock. A neighbor called at the home about 9 o'clock and according to his statement, everything appeared to be all right at that time and from this fact, the police arrived at the conclusion that the burglary was committed after 9 o'clock.

Hobson is out of the city at the present time. Mrs. Hobson feels the loss of the gold watch very keenly, as it belonged to her mother and she prized it highly as a keepsake. No other room in the residence was ransacked but the bedroom where the jewelry was kept, and the police believe that the person guilty of the theft was well acquainted with the house.

DOVE SHOOTING WILL

BEGIN HERE SEPT. 1

Squirrel Poisoning Has Not

Destroyed Many Birds,

Says Warden.

The opening of the dove shooting season September 1 will give the local sportsman an opportunity to have a great many birds in the six weeks allowed in this, the fourth game district. Twenty doves may be killed by each individual in a day. They are said to be plentiful in some districts. It is complained that the squirrel poisoning campaign has thinned the flocks of doves.

In regard to this, District Game Warden A. D. Ferguson said yesterday that he thought the number of birds killed by eating poisoned grain has been small. He said much of the danger to the birds could be removed by using barley for the bait.

"I am sure that the quail have not been hurt by the poisoned grain," he said, "and the fact that barley has been used, instead of wheat, in most instances, has also benefited the doves, because the smaller seeds, and quail eat barley. I think in another year no difficulty will be encountered in getting the farmers and officials to adopt barley alone for the purpose. Experiments are being carried on now by several men, notably John Denton, a sportsman and rancher east of Madera, who has used small wire cages. The quails will enter the cages, but the birds shy at them."

"A plan is also being worked out whereby the ranchers of a large neighborhood will use one kind of grain in order to see the effects. I do not believe that the entire of poisoned grain often kills or injures the birds. The poison is in small quantities, that when it reaches the stomach, it is diluted by the other foods and is not injurious. There is no danger to persons eating the birds."

The fourth district includes eight counties, San Joaquin, Kings, Tulare, Kern, Fresno, Stanislaus, Madera and Merced. The state law last year opened the season July 1. The shorter season is expected to afford much better protection to the game.

California Oil

OIL COMPANY PRESIDENT EXTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

UNDER ARREST FOR

EMBEZZLEMENT

Six Drilling Outfits to Be

Started on Property in Midway.

An extensive campaign of development is being planned by the California Oil Company, which is to be started on its tract of 1500 acres on the Midway Mariposa flat, about the first of September. Six new complete drilling outfits are to be installed, and wells drilled by each as rapidly as possible.

The Pyramid Company is over 2500 feet deep in its well on section 13, 22-25 on this tract, and has gone through over 200 feet of profile oil bearing, sandy brown shale formation, which also carries a heavy flow of gas. The Pyramid Company has demonstrated in this well that the oil bearing formation in this part of the Midway flat is of an unusual thickness, and that the wells drilled will be big producers. The unusual thickness of the oil bearing stratum here assures a long life to all the wells that may be drilled.

The gas pressure has been so strong that it has been taking the legions of the drillers. The Pyramid Company has all the latest and best drilling equipment obtainable for controlling any flow of gas that may be encountered.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 20.—Waste of natural gas by the owners of gas wells will be prosecuted by the state conservation board, according to Secretary Louis R. Glavin. Glavin has sent out warnings to the different oil well owners, advising a copy of the act showing it to be a violation of the law to permit natural gas to escape. He has also sent copies to the district attorneys of the various counties asking them to proceed against all violators.

CONS. MIDWAY CHIEF

BUILDS DERRICK

The Consolidated Midway Chief, on section 15, 22-25, Midway field, has its derrick and rig complete. Pipes are now being laid to carry fuel oil and water to the storage tanks and as soon as this is accomplished the well will be spudded. Considerable delay in the work has been caused by the slowness of the railroad to deliver freight. On its high gravity property near Newhall, the company has been retarded in drilling by losing a set of tools. These have now been recovered and work is going on steadily with two shifts of men. The log of this well thus far is the same as those of the adjoining wells of the Standard Oil Company, which has there a large production of high gravity oil.

DETECTIVE SECURES

EVIDENCE ON MURDER

Goehring Thinks Man Now

in Jail Implicated By Circumstances.

That Manuel Gomez, a Mexican, who is being held in the county jail with three other Mexican men and two Mexican women, is connected with the murder of Rafael Garcia which occurred in Chinatown Wednesday night, was the statement made yesterday by Police Detective Goehring.

Information secured against Gomez is only circumstantial. On the afternoon previous to the murder of Garcia, Gomez is said to have entered a saloon in Chinatown and left a revolver. He signed his name to a receipt showing that he had left the gun at the saloon. At 7:30 Wednesday night, about one-half hour before Garcia was shot it is declared, Gomez again entered the saloon and secured his revolver. He also again signed his name, showing that the gun had been delivered to him.

Shortly after the murder of Garcia, and during the excitement, a Mexican, who was in the saloon, which is only two blocks from the place where Garcia was killed, and left a revolver. The man signed his name as Manuel Gomez but the bartender was unable to identify the Manuel Gomez who is in jail, as the same man who left the pistol in the saloon after the shooting, as he was very excited and did not pay any attention to the Mexican. Detective Goehring is of the opinion that the Mexican who left the revolver in the saloon after the murder is the Manuel Gomez who is in jail. Gomez was arrested several hours after the murder in a Mexican lodging house on E street.

Several empty shells were found near the scene of the murder by the police. The gun which was left at the saloon is in possession of the police and Detective Goehring will today see if the shells fit in the revolver. Miss Angelina Redina, who was arrested when she called at the jail to see one of the men in jail, Gomez was arrested several hours after the murder in a Mexican lodging house on E street.

Several empty shells were found near the scene of the murder by the police. The gun which was left at the saloon is in possession of the police and Detective Goehring will today see if the shells fit in the revolver. ENDEAVORERS SPEAK

OF MOUNTAIN LESSONS

Hilltop Scenes From Bible

Used to Draw Moral

Conclusions.

There was a large attendance at the Union Christian Endeavor services on the roof of the Y. M. C. A. building last night. The topic for the evening was "Mountain Scenes in Bible History."

To each church was assigned some mountain scene in the Bible and the addresses were on the lessons that might be learned from the various mountains. There was the mountain of transfiguration, the mountain of temptation, Mount Moriah, the mountain of vision, Mount Olive and Mount Calvary. Responses on these were made by speakers from the Calvary Presbyterian, North Side Christian, First Christian, First Baptist, First Presbyterian, First Methodist and the St. Paul's Methodist church. Special music was rendered during the services.

Each of the speakers devoted his time to telling what might be learned from the different mountains and advanced reasons why mountains were chosen for momentous occurrences.

CLASSICS AND "RAGS"

MINGLE IN CONCERT

Both Popular—With Crowd

in Park; Sacred Music

Next Sunday.

The concert from Rossini's "Semiramide" proved the most popular piece at the hand concert at the park last night. The other numbers received scarcely less applause, an encore being granted after nearly every piece. The "Arkansas Traveler," a fantasia burlesque, was received warmly, and several of the encores were of similar nature. The band was at the head last night, and had the inspiration of a jazz and appreciative crowd. The German marches were highly appreciated, several musicians in the audience looking up Conductor J. W. Tilton during intermission to congratulate him upon their successful rendition.

Next Sunday, a program of sacred music will be given on Varma's instruments, a great drawing card, as some of the best known hymns will be played by the full band. Part of the sacred hymns will be played in the usual simple style, and others will be played as amplified by the masters of music. Several potent will be given on Varma's instruments, "Teufels Druse" and the "Holy City" are to be included among these.

PLAY TOGS FOR THE LITTLE GIRLS

PITY the poor little maid who is debarred from the glorious privilege of making mud pies because of sartorial considerations! No bifurcated garment devised for the emancipation of the feminine sex has given more genuine comfort and independence than the rompers of the small girl. These happy-go-lucky togs may be donned without frilly petticoats or they may be slipped on over dainty little frocks as a protection. For beach wear they are ideal, and they may be made of stout, wear-resisting galatee or of the thin, most sinist gingham or chambray for running about the lawn on hot summer mornings.

Some mothers object to the romper for the same reason that they object to overalls for the little girl, but, while the wee girlie in overalls is undoubtedly a grotesque and unlovely object, rompers are really not at all ungraceful or tomboyish when they are well cut and have plenty of fullness in the skirt portion.

Cotton chambray in shades that do not show soil readily is the most satisfactory material for ordinary rompers for every morning wear. The sleeves should be loose at the ends and not confined in tight bands, which may hamper the free play of little arms, and elbow sleeves are best, as long ones are apt to be wet most of the time if the playground is near water of any sort. The neck of the romper may be cut square or in shallow Dutch style or there may be a low collar band as a finish. The embroidered cotton trimmings which come by the yard add an attractive finishing touch. These trimmings may be had with red, blue, green or pink embroideries on a white ground or in various other color combinations and in all widths.

Very serviceable rompers for a small child may be contrived from a man's half worn negligee shirt. The shirt begins to wear out around the collar long before the lower portion goes, and from the tails of the shirt the bloomers of the romper may be cut, waist and sleeves being easy to contrive from the larger sleeves and upper portion of the shirt.

Linen rompers look very crisp and fresh when newly laundered, but they wrinkle easily and are not as comfortable and cool as rompers of chambray or checked gingham.

The Kate Greenaway sand aprons are charming and appeal mightily to juvenile hearts. These aprons are made of galatee bound with bright colored or white braid, and delightful nursery rhyme pictures are printed in color on the front. They come in various styles and may be slipped on when the child arrives at the beach, the pretty white frock and petticoats being removed first. The pictures may be stenciled on the rompers that are made at home.

Little girls too old for rompers look well in khaki play dresses which match the sturdy khaki suits of their small brothers. Such dresses are cut all in one piece in simple box plaited style, a black patent leather belt passing through a tough stitched straps at the waist line. A turned over lion collar and black tie and an above play rig will make this not brown play rig very smart and good looking. Beneath the play frock of course will be worn knickers of similar material in lieu of petticoats. CATHERINE TALBOT.

THE FASHION FOR HOUSEKEEPING.

It is no longer fashionable not to know on which side the bread is buttered or how to cook a potato. The intelligent society woman nowadays is scientifically domesticated. She can meet her own cook without flinching and can, moreover, give that autocrat "points" on culinary matters.

A KEEPING COOL PARTY

WHAT do you think of this rather clever plan hit upon by the hosts of a couple of youthful friends who were entertaining during their vacation—a keeping cool party?

The party was not hard to arrange and was a complete success. The invitation cards were decorated with pen and ink sketches of toadstools, on which were polar bears, and below these pictures were written simply the names of the entertainers, with the time, place and date and the words "Keeping Cool Party."

The porch itself was trimmed with cotton batting and with glass icicles loaned from a box of Christmas tree decorations. A big block of ice with a hollow in the top (reaching on a tin pan, the edges of which were concealed with cotton batting) served as flower holder instead of a vase or bowl. The receptacle was filled with pretty bunches of white posies for each of the guests. A bowl of fruit loaned from a friend, in which a big piece of ice chinked pleasantly, stood near at hand with some dainty sweet wafers and a dish of simple candy—the twisted barley sugar variety that looks so much like lilies.

The fines at the party occasioned much merriment. These attached to anything said by a guest suggestive of heat. If guests fanned themselves or mopped their brows they were handed a slip on which was written the word "forfeit," and all those having such cards were called upon to do a funny stunt later on.

Such nouns, adjectives and the like as ice, breeze, frozen, chilly, ice-berg and Arctic were the terms in vogue. Five minutes were allowed for making a list, and the person at the end of that time who had thought up the greatest number of terms won a prize. This was an illustrated copy of "Snow-bound."

FOR THE DISHWASHER.

Besides having a put chain and scraper you should have thick canvas cloths for the pots and pans and separate light cloths for the finer china-ware. A rubber sponge is just the thing for greasy dishes. One of these lasts a long while and gives such satisfaction that you will never be without one once you try them. Cake tins, pattycakes and all small tinware boiled in a dishpan in the water of which a handful of soda has been thrown will become fresh and clean and as bright as new.

NOISELESS FURNITURE.

Irritating noises can be avoided by taking some old felt hats, cutting out from these disks about the size of a quarter and securely fastening them to the bottoms of the legs of all chairs, tables and other movable articles not provided with casters. This also prevents the scratching of polished floors.

When the Lamp Is Lit

MUSINGS OF ELINOR HITE

THE general opinion secretly expressed among ourselves and very openly talked about by our English cousins is that the American woman's voice is distressingly uncontrolled, badly pitched and frequently rises to the breaking point in conversation. But it must also be acknowledged in defense of this criticism that the American voice is improving, and the very best way to accomplish this much needed reform is to acquire self control in speaking. It is wonderful what a little cultivation will do along this line, adding modulation and tone to the voice.

Practice placing the voice by reading aloud or reciting short poems. This one can do at odd moments in the room. If the voice is properly placed one can read aloud indefinitely without feeling fatigued.

Most voices gain their ugly quality through lack of thought. Excited by conversation a voice which ordinarily possesses nothing disagreeable about it rises to objectionable heights and goes careening on indefinitely until it racks the nerves of every listener.

It is a good idea when one finds the voice rising to this point to pause for a second until one gains control of it again. A lapse of a few minutes is not disastrous to a conversation. Some one else must pause for breath, and the pause gives you your chance.

While a sweet low voice is a charming possession, one must guard against the mistake of too low a pitch. It is annoying to be forced to ask a person to repeat what they have just said, and mumbled voices give a most unpleasant impression.

There is a happy medium of tone which every woman should strive to make her own. Unfortunately it is the voice just now for the young girl to affect a rather high baby treble, which is anything but pleasing. A few seasons ago it was the throaty rather husky tone that was fashionable. All such vocal fads should, however, be avoided by the person who wishes to possess a rich and cultivated voice. One's best tones should be searched for, and developed and strengthened making them as full and round as possible, remembering always to let the voice express emotion, but not to allow emotion to possess the voice. A nice distinction.

EYELET EMBROIDERY LINGERIE DRESS

GOWN OF LINEN AND EMBROIDERY.

THIS costume of linen and eyelet embroidery is an excellent example of the manner in which narrow insertions may be combined with plain material in making up a gown that gives the general effect of being all over embroidery. The blouse is cut with underarm seams and a round neck, these finished only by bands of insertion. Bands of insertion divided by tucked bands of plain linen form the lower part of the skirt. A lagoon girdle outlined on a band of black velvet encircles the waist. The wide black hat of chip is trimmed with a cluster of willow plumes and a bow of velvet ribbon.

DAINTINESS THE KEYNOTE OF THE SUMMER GIRL'S LINGERIE YOKE

A GIRL who is the acme of daintiness has evolved an adjustable lingerie yoke which she uses with frocks that ordinarily would have permanent linings across the shoulders. The advantage of the adjustable protection is that it may be laundered frequently and therefore kept in a state of pristine freshness.

Only a little work does one require in making, too. A hemstitched handkerchief of the size used by a man is selected, as it is wide enough to cover the shoulders.

The girl's neck being thirteen inches in size, she takes a china plate of similar circumference and places it on the open-handkerchief, so that the plate center is two inches nearer to one edge of the hem than the opposite, but is in the very center of what may be called the sides of the yoke. A pencil line is made around the plate, which is removed, and the circle cut out with a pair of sharp scissors. The handkerchief then is folded in two, bringing together the two sides that make the open circle a semicircle when folded. Then the shallower side of the square is slit with scissors up to the circle, and the yoke is shaped. The object of putting the plate or hole a little nearer to one edge than precisely in the middle is in order, when the yoke is cut, that the back shall be deeper than the front.

The raw edge at the neck is rolled under, French fashion, and whipped.

USEFUL FOR THE PICNIC OUTFIT

ONE of the most compact and easily carried picnic outfits ever devised has been assembled by a girl who strongly objects to being cumbered with a box or a tea basket. A child's leather school bag has been divided by means of canvas leaves, stitched against the three closed sides of the receptacle into three compartments.

In one fits a collapsible chafing dish and lamp of nickel or copper, into another a set of hemstitched paper tablecloth, napkins and doilies, and into a third a morocco grained envelope holding a dozen or more neatly folded sanitary drinking cups.

This leather bag has such substantial handles that it may safely be swung from the back of a vehicle, but it is also so light and wieldy that it may be comfortably held upon the lap or shoved into any convenient corner. And when the cups and table furnishings have been used and thrown away the remainder of the outfit will go into the pocket of any ulster.

A sandwich with a delightful piquancy of flavor is made of horseradish and sliced tomatoes. Take a quarter of a cup of grated horseradish and mix it with the same amount of mayonnaisse dressing. Sprinkle some slices of tomato with salt, then spread thin slices of bread with mayonnaise and horseradish mixture and put sliced tomatoes between.

ELASTIC FOR THE HAIR.

Girls have invented quite a clever scheme to keep their locks in place in or out of the house by using the thinnest kind of hat elastic around the hair. It matches their locks and does not show. It makes a tiny ridge, barely visible, where it tightens the hair, but the locks can easily be pulled up above it with a hairpin.

It keeps the hair from blowing down on the neck and over the face and gives a trim, trig look over the forehead and ears. It is not as substantial as a net, but it is much less trouble to put on and serves very well for those who cannot wear the other. The elastic is tied around the hair in a tiny knot without ends.

LENGTH OF A CHILD'S DRESS.

Up to the age of eight or nine years a child's dress should just reach the bend of the knee. To measure it place the little one on its knees on a table and turn up the hem until the lower edge touches the table.

Household Jottings

NEVER go in for cheap dish towels if you dislike dingy effects. Linen ones keep much whiter than cotton, as the latter turn gray from constant use, however carefully handled.

Never let dishwater dry in the towels. They should be washed after each using, and once a day a bit of washing soda may be added to the water. Rinsing in cold rather than in hot water invariably keeps the towels whiter.

Before using the inner dish of the new casserole put it in a pan filled with cold water, set it on back of stove and bring to boil, boiling five minutes. This tempers the earthenware and makes cracks less common.

Tiled vestibules, especially the old fashioned black and white tiles, may be kept shiny by rubbing once a week with a little linseed oil. Polish with a dry cloth or chamois.

It is one of the new fashions to fasten a skirt on the bias from the right hip over to the left knee. Blouses are also fastened in this diagonal fashion. The idea was brought about by the innovation of one sided trimming on many of the new gowns.

A BEAUTY TOUCH AT THE OFFICE

THE pretty stenographer was not looking her very best. In fact, a strong southeast wind had been blowing all morning into the twelfth story window of the New York office building where she sat at her desk transcribing notes.

This damp and uncomfortable summer breeze had taken the curl from the neat little business girl's hair, which earlier in the day had been so carefully arranged. Now these crat-while curly locks were straight and languid about her face in hopelessly straggly strands.

What should she do to improve her disheveled appearance, for her employer particularly disliked an untidy looking secretary. While pondering the question she toyed with a metal paper cutter. Looking down at the implement a happy thought seized her—why not make a virtue of necessity and use the paper cutter for a curling iron? It was but the work of an instant to attach a small electric stove used for hurry luncheons to the light above her desk. This done she laid the blade of the cutter on the hot drum of the stove, allowing it to remain there until the right curling temperature had been reached. This improvised curling iron worked beautifully, and a pretty coiffure was the result of using a little "gumption."

THIS is a recipe for peach short-cake, the real old fashioned kind that almost everybody likes. For the shortcake take half a pound of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of baking powder, three tablespoonfuls of butter and three tablespoonfuls of lard and half a pint of milk. Mix and sift the dry ingredients. Add the butter and lard and rub until thoroughly blended, then pour in the milk. When thoroughly blended divide in halves and put each half into a round, buttered cake tin. Flour the hand and pat the batter to fit the tin. Bake ten to twelve minutes in a hot oven. When baked separate the upper portions from the lower portions of each cake with a fork; never cut with a knife. Spread with butter, then fill with filling. Peel, cut in slices and sweeten three breakfast cups full of peaches, and to these add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and spread all between layers of shortcake. Garnish the top layer with peaches and whipped cream.

Frozen peaches are a delicious dessert for a hot day. Make a rich custard, and before freezing add one quart of soft peaches peeled, mashed fine and sweetened. When the fresh peach is not procurable canned peaches may be used, but do not sweeten them.

When there is any left over sponge cake in the house try getting rid of it by means of a peach trifle. Cut the stale sponge cake into slices and arrange alternately layers of sliced peaches sprinkled with sugar and chopped almonds and slices of cake in a deep cut glass dish. Pour over this arrangement a custard made from the yolks of three eggs, four tablespoonfuls of sugar and one pint of milk flavored with lemon or vanilla. Make a meringue with the whites of the eggs and six tablespoonfuls of sugar and place over the custard; sprinkle blanched almonds over it and serve very cold.

Baked peaches are mighty good. Take six large juicy free stone peaches, peel and remove the pits. Place in a deep pudding dish. Fill each cavity with one teaspoonful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of butter, a little grated nutmeg and a few drops of lemon juice. Cook for twenty minutes and serve on rounds of pound cake several days old.

This marmalade recipe is one contributed by a housekeeper famous for her preserves. Wipe, pare and cut ripe peaches into small pieces, place them in a saucepan, then add a layer of sugar so alternating until it is all in. Allow three-quarters of a pound of sugar for each pound of fruit, then cook them slowly over the fire, adding a very little water, watching them carefully that they do not burn. When the mixture begins to look clear and grows thick upon coiling a portion on a plate it is done and ready to pour into jars.

THE LINEN AND PIQUE SKIRT

THE white-linen or pique skirt bids fair to be as popular this season as ever. Nothing looks so cool and alluring in warm weather as the costume of spotless white. And the dainty blouse could not exist without the accompanying smart tailored skirt.

The skirts this year are all cut on the straight, simple, narrow lines. The buttons extend down one side all the way to the hem, or the skirt may also be fastened down the two side gores just far enough to make a comfortable placket. Occasionally, one sees a few plaits inserted, to give greater freedom, but the plain skirt is far more practical for laundering purposes. Large pearl buttons are still the chief form of decoration, though a six inch fold of the same material attached a few inches above the hem of the skirt may give a little variety when one is planning a number of skirts.

Another model that is attractive is a nine gore skirt whose every gore had an inch and a half tuck attached down to the bottom of the skirt. This gave no extra flare, but gave stability to material that is light in weight.

The girl who has enough skirts and dainty blouses has a fine foundation for her summer wardrobe.

WILSON IS CHOSEN MAJOR OF FIRST BATTALION

Defeats Captain Heath in Caucus By Vote of Seven to Five.

Officers of Regiment Make Election Unanimous;
Heath Nominates.

Captain I. E. Wilson of Fresno was yesterday elected major of the First Battalion, Second Regiment, N. G. C., to succeed George M. Hays, retired. The election, in which the officers of the regiment participated, was unanimous.

The battle for the honor between Captain Wilson and Captain Heath of Hanford, which was expected to be a close one, was settled in a caucus of the officers of the First Battalion. Captain Wilson won the caucus by a vote of 7 to 5 and when the nominations were called at the Army a short time later, he was nominated by the defeated candidate, Captain Heath.

When the Fresno men left for Sacramento, they expressed little hope that the matter would be settled in a caucus, for while the six officers of the Fresno companies were a unit for Wilson, it was figured that the six officers of the Hanford and Bakersfield companies, were a unit for Heath. However, some of the outside officers of the battalion upset calculations and Captain Heath was defeated on the first vote. No one has yet been able to find out who cast the winning vote for Captain Wilson.

Of the thirty-five officers of the regiment entitled to a vote, twenty-seven were present at the election, which was conducted in the Army at Sacramento by Captain J. Alexander, Second Infantry commissary officer.

Following the election, a number of addresses were made by the principal officers. Lieutenant Colonel O. P. Quinn of the 23rd U. S. Infantry, who has been detailed by the War Department to co-operate with the California National Guard in military matters, others who spoke were Colonel I. E. Wilson, commanding the Second Infantry, N. G. C., Major J. G. Lee of Woodland, Colonel F. E. Canon, Major Paul M. Norboe, Major W. H. White of Oroville, Major C. J. Thomas, Jr., of Woodland, Major John F. Sherburn of Sacramento, and Captain F. W. Hamilton of Company K, Sacramento.

CAREER OF WILSON.
Captain Wilson, major elect, has seen many years of service in the National Guard in Fresno and Woodland. He has been captain of Company K for about five years. This is the second year of his second term as captain. He first became affiliated with the National Guard in Fresno and has spent almost all his time with the two local companies. When he was first elected captain of Company K, he resigned before his term expired and went to Woodland, where he enlisted in the Woodland company as a private. Upon his return to Fresno, he was re-elected captain of Company K.

Captain Wilson was a candidate for the office of major when Major Hays was elected. Major Hays was elected only after a long battle in the caucus, when he was brought into the contest as a compromise.

It will be two or three weeks before the new major receives his commission, as he will have to pass an examination and then the papers will have to be sent to the colonel of the regiment at Chicago. From there they will have to be sent to Brigadier General Wankowski, commanding this brigade, with headquarters at Los Angeles, and from there they will have to be sent to Adjutant General Forbes.

MAJOR ELECT WILSON OF FIRST BATTALION

TERRORIZES FOOTHILLS WITH GUNS; LOCKED IN INSANE WARD

Monroe Zribble, Aged 17, Is Taken on Request of His Brother.

Kick of Mule Believed to
Be the Cause of His Condition.

Because he is alleged to have terrorized residents in the foothills by running about at night carrying two large pistols and threatening to do harm to any one who interfered with his nightly crusades, Monroe Zribble, 17 years of age, was arrested yesterday afternoon in the county house park and lodged in the insane ward. Zribble will probably be examined before a lunacy commission today.

When Zribble was only six years of age he was kicked in the face by a mule and according to relatives of the boy, he had not been right since that time. It is claimed that a little more than a year ago, the boy's father committed suicide and this has preyed upon his mind until he has become completely demented.

About four months ago the boy was sent into the foothills to herd cattle on a ranch. His condition gradually grew worse, owing to his isolation it is said and lately he complained about his actions. They claim that he always carried two large revolvers and that they live in fear of their lives because they are afraid that the boy will kill someone during one of his irrational periods.

A brother of the youth went to the foothills last week and argued young Zribble to come to Fresno on a visit. When Zribble arrived at the court house park, the brother went to the county jail and told his story to Sheriff Laird. The deputy requested Zribble to be taken to the jail, as he wished to give him a treatment. Laird represented himself to be a physician. Unsuspecting, Zribble entered the jail and was locked up in the insane ward. The youth did not object and said that he was willing to wait a little while until the doctor got around to his case. P. P. Anderson, a relative of the youth who lives in Fresno, is expected to sign a complaint today charging Zribble with insanity.

FOR CHECK PASSING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—Thomas A. Madden, a drug clerk of Los Angeles, was arrested today on a warrant issued in the southern city, charging him with passing bad checks. Madden admitted that he was the man wanted.

WHAT THE DOCTOR PRESCRIBED

On March 30, 1911, Mrs. Sue A. Powell, seven years old, was hit by a car and had been for ten weeks. He was pitifully swollen, his eyes were closed and death was expected hourly for two months when he had to be taken to the hospital. The doctor said that the child was so swollen that he could not get into the hospital until the swelling was reduced. The treatment was changed to Falt's Renal Compound and the mother wrote for help. Our consulting physician promptly forwarded the following to build up the heart and increase the elimination until the Renal Compound could begin to get control.

Rx.
Falt's Digitalis, gr. 1-2.
Falt's Sph. gr. 1-2.
Theognin, gr. 5.

Made thirty capsules. Dose one three times a day. Renal Compound after meals.

Six weeks later the mother reported pleasure and that the boy had taken his first steps alone.

We now have the following happy denouncement dated August 2, 1911: "My little son, Wallace Powell, who has been taking your compound for the past three months is now up and running around. It surely is one of the most wonderful cases ever known. I am recommending Falt's Renal Compound to everyone I see and it is surprising how many I find with kidney trouble. I am confident there are about 100,000 cases of this kind who have not known it. I was so much swollen that I could not get into the hospital until the swelling was reduced. PLAN ARTISTIC DISPLAY FOR FRESNO COUNTY AT STATE FAIR

Big Pergola, 18 By 72 Feet,
Is to House Exhibits
From Here.

Coalinga Oil Exhibit to Be
One of Features of Local Showing.

A carload of exhibits for the state fair at Sacramento was sent from this city last night by William Robertson, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Robertson will have charge of the exhibit in Sacramento. Fresno county has been allotted a space 18 by 72 feet in which to make its exhibit. It is planned to make the exhibit display as unique as possible from the natural products of the county.

A big pergola will extend the entire length of the space, but instead of being covered with vines, it will be covered with canvas and will allow the exhibits will be placed on small tables, which will be scattered throughout the space. In this way, visitors will be able to see the exhibits from every side and the absence of long tables, usually used on such occasions, it is believed, will allow a more attractive exhibit.

A wall extends along one side of the Fresno county space and on this wall, a distance of 72 feet, pictures, showing scenes in Fresno county, will be hung.

An oil exhibit showing what is produced in the Coalinga oil field will be one of the features of the Fresno county exhibit. In addition to the regular exhibit, there will be scenes of the oil fields among the pictures on the wall.

LOS ANGELES EXHIBIT.
Two cars of exhibits have arrived at the state fair from Los Angeles. Charles L. Wilson of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is in charge of the exhibit, which is entirely new, and he is confident that it will surpass everything of the kind at the state fair. The Los Angeles process of vegetable preserving is remarkable for its naturalness and beauty of the specimens. Besides the preserved fruits in glass, fruits and vegetables are shown in paper mache models in exact size and shape and color of the originals. Fresh fruit will be shipped to the fair from the south daily.

The security of room for the automobile and motor-truck exhibits at the state fair emphasizes the need for a special building for the vehicle exhibits. All the space under the big new grandstand is taken up and a number of entries have been turned down for lack of space. But for this difficulty the automobile show at the state fair this year would have greatly exceeded any previous show and where of the coast. However, by a careful distribution of space there will be a good variety and altogether a very handsome exhibit. Nine gold medals are offered in this class and there will be plenty of competition.

COW PARLOR.
The aristocrats of the dairy will be honored at the state fair in roomy and airy barns, from which they will be conducted by white-uniformed attendants to the milking parlor, a new concrete pavilion with stanchions for seventy-two cows. Here they will leisurely chew their balanced ration while the milking is going on, after which they will be taken back to the milking barn. The milking barn is well drained and scientifically ventilated, lighted by electricity and is a model in every respect of what a milking barn should be. The milking itself is a sanitary exhibit that should be studied by every dairyman. Near the milking barn is the model dairy house with its separators, butter-making apparatus, refrigerator with a ton ice capacity and laboratory for the testing of milk and cream, the examination of butter, etc. This building is of cement painted cream white, and is located at the north of the main exhibit building. It is beautifully lighted and will be used also as the lecture room of the dairy department of the state agricultural school at Davis. Lectures on dairy practice will be given daily by members of the Davis school staff.

STEERS MACHINE INTO TREE TO AVOID WOMAN

Delmar Evans Escapes Unhurt After Smashing Up Running Gear.

In order to avoid running into a woman who was crossing the street, Delmar Evans, 18, of Evans, hit the automobile, crossing street machine, he was driving into the curb and struck a tree at Stanislaus and Blackstone avenues. The front and rear left wheels were smashed and the axle was badly bent. Evans escaped unhurt.

Young Evans, returning to the garage from his home and as he entered Stanislaus street from Blackstone avenue, he met an outboard Blackstone street car. A woman was also crossing the street and Evans was unable to pass on the side of the car without running into the woman, so he headed his machine for the curb and struck the tree. He was the only person in the automobile.

The automobile is owned by the Summers-Leas Realty Company, and Evans was in their employ as a chauffeur.

TEAM RUN INTO BY MACHINE IS FOUND
A team of horses belonging to Leonard Peterson of Olander, who was struck by an automobile early Sunday morning on railroad avenue, were found yesterday. Malheur and turned over to the owner. Deputy Sheriff Heston has investigated the case but was unable to find any clues that would lead to the driver of the automobile. REV. SKINNER TALKS AT SERVICES IN PARK

Preaches on the Subject of Faith; Good Music Is Rendered.

"Look at Christ in Faith" was the message of Rev. J. H. Skinner at the park services last night. This was the first of a series of services at the new pastor of the First Presbyterian church, having been up to his pastorate about a month ago. A good crowd attended the services.

Announcing his text, "They shall see his face," Rev. Skinner spoke on the different ways of looking for Christ. The material way of looking for him, and the craved way, he said, avail nothing but disappointment. To take a critical view is to make Jesus look like a human being, which is to be little him. A spiritual way of looking for him, and a thorough trust in his goodness and goodness and charity, prepares the seeker to meet him face to face. It is only such who see him in his glory, he said.

The musical program last night was especially good. The choir, assisted by members of the choir, rendered two selections, which showed careful preparation, and added not a little to the interest of the meeting. Rev. William Louie, president, and Rev. T. H. B. Anders, in oblation the invocation.

NEW CHIEF PLANNING TO IMPROVE THE POLICE EQUIPMENT HERE

Jones Advocates a New Call System, Patrol Wagon and Larger Force.

But Says He Contemplates
No Radical Changes
Too Suddenly.

That he will improve the police facilities as the finances of the city will allow by installing a police call system, hiring more equipment, and probably getting an automobile patrol and ambulance, was the statement made yesterday by Edward Jones, who will assume the office of chief of police of Fresno on the first day of September.

"I am hardly in a position at the present time to talk for publication in regard to changes I will make in the police department when I assume the office of chief of police next month," said Jones. "I do not intend to make any radical changes, but as the city finances get into such a condition that I can make improvements, I most certainly will request the police and fire commissioners to grant funds for improvements that are badly needed."

"One of the first improvements that I will request is that a new police call system be installed. As I understand it, at the present time the policemen are compelled to first get in communication with 'central' and then they are connected with police headquarters. This causes a delay and the police boxes should be connected with headquarters in such a manner that the patrolmen on their beats could get in touch with the chief of headquarters at a moment's notice. There should be a call system, so that the clerk at headquarters can reach any patrolman on his beat. These call systems are being used in many of the big cities and are a success."

NEED A WAGON
"Another thing that is badly needed by the police department is a patrol wagon. Since the police have got along without a patrol wagon thus far I guess that we can continue to do so for some time. I will also suggest that more patrolmen be employed. A city of this size is entitled to more police than are employed at this time. I do not mean to infer that the present police officers are not doing their duty, because they are, but more men are needed. Now I do not wish to give the public the idea that I am going to step into the office vacated by Chief Shaw and burden the city with a large expense, but these improvements I have suggested will be made little by little as the city grows and the taxpayers will not be burdened."

"I will enforce the law," continued Jones, "and if they are not, they may as well be repealed. At the present time, I am not familiar with the various city ordinances and the police manual, but I will familiarize myself with how and the first of September."

Jones also incidentally remarked that the members of the present police force will be retained as long as they faithfully fulfill their duties.

Jones received congratulations from all sides yesterday.

KERCKHOFF ARRIVES TO INSPECT DAM SITE

A. G. Wishon Accompanies
Los Angeles Man; To Move Machinery Soon.

William G. Kerckhoff, a leading official of the Pacific Light and Power Company and stockholder of the San Joaquin company, arrived in Fresno yesterday by the morning sleeper, and left with A. G. Wishon at 6:30 o'clock for Big Creek. It is understood that the surveys and inspections necessary in getting the dam site are practically completed and that the bonds for the work will soon be issued.

L. N. Part, general superintendent of the San Joaquin company, returned yesterday from a three days' trip to Crane Valley, where he inspected the excavation machinery. A force is busy there cleaning and overhauling the hoisting engines, motors, transformers and other machinery used in the construction of the dam. They will be transported to the Big Creek site, to be used there.

NORBOE GIVES RESULTS OF STEAMER TRIP UP THE SAN JOAQUIN

Urges Work for Canalizing
Stream, Under Measure
By Caminetti.

Declares Waters of River
Shamefully Wasted By Miller and Lux.

Details, received yesterday, of the report submitted to the state river advisory board Saturday by Assistant State Engineer Norboe, as reported in press dispatches show that Norboe was acting under the Caminetti resolution, which called for an investigation of the proposition of canalizing the interior streams of the state. He urges that the state and the national government follow up the investigation along the lines laid down in the Caminetti measure.

The Caminetti bill, which was passed at the last session of the legislature, provided for an investigation into means for providing an interior waterway system for the state, and the sum of $25,000 was appropriated for the investigation. Norboe's report is the result.

In a sense, of the trip which the summer "J. R. McDonald" made up the river from Stockton to Sloughs bridge, under the auspices of the Fresno joint navigation committee, Norboe had been looking into the river improvement business before he joined the steamer during a part of her trip and was thus enabled to confirm his observations and get a first hand information. He had expected to join the steamer at Silt Slough, where Colonel Biddle, Major Cheney, both government engineers, and others making up a semi-official party, left the boat after a day's run. However, because of a misunderstanding as to the time the boat would be at the slough, Norboe missed connections, and was forced to go ahead to Firebaugh, where he joined the boat for the last day's run. Though this circumstance prevented him from seeing the worst reaches of the river as the boat went over them, he displayed familiarity with most of the shallows, bars and bad turnings, which he discussed at some length with members of the committee while on board.

In his report, Norboe discusses the terrible condition of the stream, how it has been debauched by weirs, snags and sandbars, and how thirty or more steamers could travel over it, and how navigation is now practically impossible. But the stream in its upper reaches is one, says Norboe, which can be redeemed by canalization.

The report goes on further to say that one corporation, Miller and Lux, has practically appropriated all of the water in the stream, and that this water is shamefully wasted. Norboe declares that the waste of this natural resource is appalling.

In regard to canalization, Norboe says that this trip on the San Joaquin has opened up a new field for interior improvement, and urges action as great good will surely result.

The local committee, in absence of any information as to the action to be taken by Major Cheney, the government engineer in charge of this district, in making out a report on the proposed opening of the river for navigation, has in the last few days sent a communication to him, asking for information as to the status of the case. Cheney held a public hearing here some weeks ago preliminary to a report to the department on the river, but no action has been taken, no intimation of future action.

FATHER TAKES SON BACK TO ASYLUM

Mr. Glenn of Parlier yesterday called at the sheriff's office and stated that his son who had recently been released on probation from the state asylum, was acting in a strange manner and that he wished to have him committed to the asylum again. Transportation was furnished Glenn and he was sent to the Slough City with his son. The boy has been demented for some time and he has been placed in the asylum on different occasions, but released on probation after a few months' confinement.

Fermentation the Chief Cause of Most Sickness.

Many people who are sick do not stop to think that fermentation is responsible for their aches and pains. Stomach troubles usually begin with food in the stomach that cannot digest. Instead of this, it begins to ferment. Fermentation forms wind in the stomach and bowels causing intense pain in the abdomen after you eat. Fermentation causes lack of appetite, severe headaches and often leads to constipation and a hundred other ills. Take glass of Baldwin's Cel-so two or three times a day to stop the fermentation and remove the cause of your troubles, and you will soon feel like a new person.

Baldwin's Cel-so is mildly laxative, is a pleasant and refreshing drink that contains no opium, morphine or other habit-producing drug, and is sold by all druggists in 10c, 25c, 50c and $1.00 sizes.
